

Coordinator's Report - 19, January 2025

- a) Historic Properties Update - Several Friends met with Emily Temple Abels and Peter Temple of Larmore Scarlett to discuss process and needs around transfer of property from monthly or quarterly meeting ownership; as a result the committee approved doing a title search on the Colora Meetinghouse property to discover current ownership and restrictions on the property; communications sent to Larmore Scarlett; will go out to WGMM and Steve Balderston, Colora MH trustee
- b) PYM Nominating/Councils - coordinator has begun service; minute we sent on seeking practical advice on transfer of property was received and the need affirmed by others; the Admin Council will be taking up the work
- c) 4th month - Mill Creek likes their neighboring community to see that our meeting house is alive and welcoming to all.

The program activity will explore the concept of "perception" and how many people can be presented with the same information and internalize that info in unique and personal ways. Much as Quakers experience the concept of "GOD" in their own way. It will be a multi-generational activity, and the children will be encouraged to participate with the adults.

Our previous quarterly meeting session at Mill Creek began with breakfast at 8:45, program at 9:30; worship 10:30-11:15, and virtual meeting for worship with attention to business at 1:00pm. It will likely be similar.

- d) 7th month Joint Quarter - Centre host; Judy Hinds is scheduled to do a program on Warner Mifflin; CQ does not have a meeting to help host and is worried about assistance in crossing the road at Centre.
- e) Tender Time Discussion Group - if there is interest, the coordinator will help organize an evening discussion group to start towards the end of February, probably on a Wednesday or Friday evening
- f) I monitored sale prices at Best Buy and purchased a new wireless printer. I will begin to transfer any needed files on the office desktop before recycling the old equipment.
- g) Education grant links and applications were updated in early January and communicated to monthly meetings.
